Primary election Tuesday

Today is election eve, and tomorrow will bring a whirlwind of activity as candidates compete for nominations and party offices in the 1982 primary.

Nominees will be chosen this week to vie in the Nov. 2 general election for statewide, legislative, judicial and county offices.

Madison Countyans this year will elect a sheriff, county clerk, regional school superintendent and treasurer.

Unopposed on the Democratic ballot are Sheriff Emil J. Tofant of Madison, Clerk Evelyn M. Bowles of Edwardsville and Supt. Harold E. "Gene" Briggs of Nameoki Township.

Democratic primary rivals are County Treasurer Michael S. "Mick" Henkhaus of Bethalto, Fred Painter of Granite City and Supervisor Robert C. Stille of Edwardsville.

The only county Republican primary candidate is Bob Barton of Nameoki Township for treasurer. But there are Republican write-in campaigns for Hance "Speed" Bailey of Granite City for sheriff and William Ambrose of Alton for county clerk.

Races here for 5 county board posts

Madison County Board members will be elected this year in all 29 districts. District 16 pits together two Democrats, Board Member Morris W. Miles and Chester Whyers Sr., both of Mitchell, and two Republicans, Terry Niedhardt of Mitchell and Eric L. McDowell of South Roxana.

No other Republicans filed for the County Board in the eight Quad-City area county districts. Unopposed in the Democratic primary are County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer (Dist. 20) of Granite City, Board Member Herbert "Junior" Milton (Dist. 22) of Granite City and Board Member Frank Duiko (Dist. 24) of Madison.

In a Democratic race for a County Board nomination, Board Member William B. Webb (Dist. 19) of Granite City is opposed by Helen M. Hawkins of Nameoki Township.

Board Member Roderick Bauder (Dist. 23) of Venice is opposed by both Donald Garrett of Madison and David E. Partney of Nameoki Township, while Board Member Richard Peck (Dist. 25) of East Madison is opposed by both Donald C. Rea of Pontoon Beach and Homer Boothman of State Park Place.

With Daniel Partney retiring from the County Board after this year, the District 21 Democratic primary has attracted Robert E. Gaughan, Vasil Eftimoff and Joseph R. McGinness Sr., all of Granite City.

Circuit judge candidates for the Harrison position are Circuit Judge George Moran Jr. of Granite City, unopposed for the Democratic nomination, and William C. "Chuck" Evers of Collinsville, lone Republican aspirant.

County housing agreement termed federal 'blackmail'

A controversial agreement which calls for more integration in Madison County Housing Authority projects — termed by one board member as a form of "blackmail" — will cost the county in excess of $25,000 this year, members of the Madison County Housing Authority Executive Board heard Thursday night.

However, in order to continue to receive funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), the board signed the federally-mandated agreement, which calls for more white placements in predominantly black housing projects and more black placements in predominantly white projects.

Another mandated change involves putting black managers in predominantly white projects and white managers in charge of predominantly black housing complexes.

In the Quad-City area, the county housing authority operates Grenzer and Garesche Homes in Madison and Viola Jones, Lee Wright and Venice Homes in Venice. Since all are predominantly occupied by blacks, the HUD guidelines may force the authority to find white managers for those projects to replace current black managers.

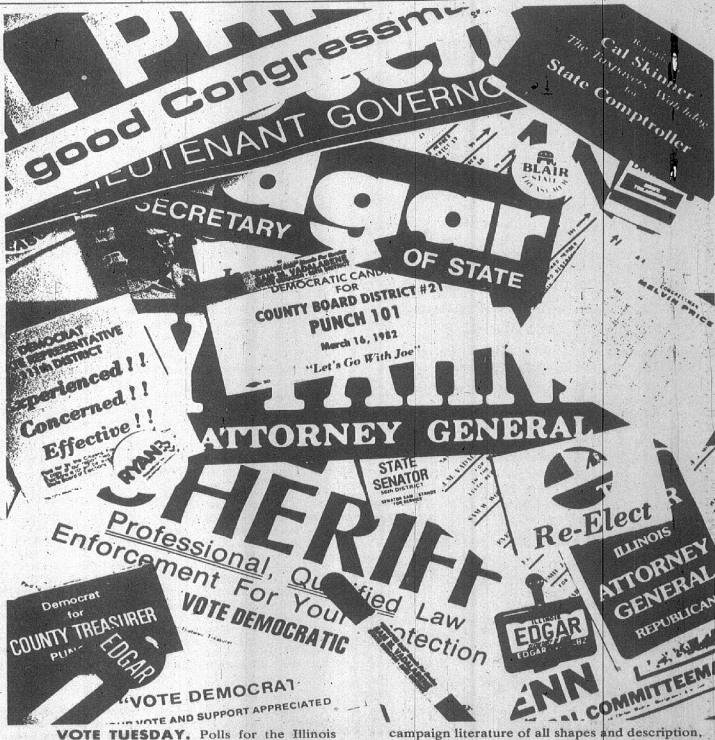

"I feel like we were blackmailed," Executive Board Member Rick Hunter of Edwardsville told reporters. He insisted that any signed agreement sent to HUD include a clause calling for additional HUD financing to pay for administration costs of changing the racial makeup of the 10 housing projects and paying for HUD-required maintenance improvements to some.

Such a clause was included by the board Thursday night and the agreement now is to be reviewed by the board's legal counsel before being submitted to HUD.

HUD had accused the county housing authority with non-compliance with a fair housing code that has discriminated in the placing of housing applicants and with maintaining predominantly white housing developments better than the black projects.

primary election will be open Tuesday from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. Candidates of both parties have gotten their message to the people via tons of campaign literature of all shapes and description, but the most important message is vote, to help preserve Democracy.

Face-to-face debates begin on ambulance fees

By GEORGEANN MEGEE of the Press-Record

Local mayors and township supervisors have ended their first round of talks with the Granite City ambulance committee, which is now preparing increases in out-of-town ambulance costs of about 32 percent and getting ready to try and recover Medicare and public aid losses from those neighboring municipalities.

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk and Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter "Deke" Sparks were the most vocal during the nearly two-hour session, which concluded with a decision to seek help from St. Elizabeth Medical Center and an agreement to meet next week for round two.

Some officials, though, seem willing to turn ambulance services into a county-operated and tax-leveled system, since the tentative increases appear more than they or their residents can afford.

Municipalities learned about the proposed rate increase from $95 to $125 per run when a letter was prematurely sent to outlying areas now serviced by Granite City ambulances. The letter was prepared only for consideration by the ambulance committee, but was erroneously mailed to the mayors and supervisors. It detailed an increase from $1 to $2 per mile traveled from the address of the patient to the hospital, regardless of where the injury or illness occurred.

Almost as important as the increased rates is a "novel approach" billing system that would allow Granite City to collect full reimbursements for out-of-town Medicare and public aid ambulance runs.

Explaining Granite City's ambulance financial problems — spurring the new measures — were City Comptroller Joseph Miklovic, Fire Chief Donald Parents, Treasurer Nick Petrelli and Aldermen Sam Whitmer and Carl Kittel. Listening to the city's views and raising questions of their own Thursday were Sasyk, Sparks, Venice Mayor

Tyrone Echols, Venice Township Supervisor Christ Pashoff, Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs and Pontoon Beach Trustee Donald Rea.

"As far as I'm concerned, today is basically for discussion," the comptroller told the officials. Miklovic said, however, that he does not expect his recommendations to change.

Miklovic cited soaring ambulance deficits reaching as high as $172,000 last year and an average $140 cost per run as the major reasons the city is requesting a new ambulance agreement with the municipalities.

The comptroller told officials that, despite any other arguments the municipalities might have, the $140 cost per run has to be the main consideration when Granite City sets its new rates.

Miklovic said the ambulance department costs the city $503,600 yearly to operate the 24-hour service manned with 19 emergency medical technicians and four vehicles.

To have the equipment standing ready, the $140 cost per call remains about the same for all users of the system, regardless of the number of calls made for each municipality.

Granite City has been handling the billing for all ambulance calls for the first 90 days after an individual bill is due, then turning over outstanding bills to the neighboring municipalities for collection.

The exception is Medicare and public aid bills, for which the city could only receive a $45 government reimbursement.

Last year, Granite City had to absorb more than $20,000 of "leftover" Medicare and public aid bills from residents of neighboring municipalities, the comptroller said.

This year he proposes "contracting" the ambulance service directly to the other municipalities, making them responsible for absorbing the aid write-offs and for taking care of their own ambulance billings.

"We are being shouldered with a responsibility without any revenue," said Madison Mayor Sasyk, who was flanked by his own city comptroller. "We'd have to have a referendum and I guarantee we can't do (pass) it," Sasyk said.

Pontoon Beach representative Donald Rea said his board would not

Mobile home fire claims life of man, 33

Fred Huie, 33, of 240 Holiday Mobile Home Park, on State A-135, east of Granite City, apparently died of smoke inhalation from a fire at his mobile home. He was pronounced dead at the scene at 12:25 a.m. Saturday, March 13, by William Sternberg, Madison County deputy coroner.

The Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department, called at 11:55 p.m. Friday, fought the fire for more than two hours. The fire is believed to have started from a pan of grease on the stove, as one of the burners was still on at the time the firemen entered the mobile home and a pan on the burner was still smoldering.

Damage to the unit and its contents is being estimated at $12,000.

Mr. Huie was found lying on the floor near the door.

"I saw him when they brought him out," said Shirley Evans, who lives across the street. "He looked like a little boy. It's really a shame, he seemed like such a nice guy."

Mrs. Evans' daughter, Venessa, said she recalled seeing police cars before the fire engines arrived.

"I came running out in my robe and footies. I thought that maybe there had been a disturbance call or something. If I had known, maybe I could have gotten him out," Miss Evans said.

Another neighbor, Kay Goleaser, said she heard "a big thump" shortly before fire engines arrived. In retrospect, she believes that that is when Mr. Huie may have fallen to the floor.

The fire victim was born in East St. Louis and resided in Granite City for one year. He was employed as a welder at Metal Products for five years.

Mr. Huie was a veteran of the Vietnam war having served with the U.S. Navy.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Kathryn Huie; two children, James and Angela Huie, both at home, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank (Madge) Huie of Collinsville; two sisters, Mrs. Shelton (Doris) Mavity of Warner-Robbins, Ga., and Mrs. Dave (Frances Ann) Gutreuter of Collinsville; two brothers, Ronald E. Huie, Caseyville, and John R. Huie of Edwardsville.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column of today's issue.

Man killed at mill

Sean D. Crawford, 23, of St. Peter, Mo., was fatally injured Thursday morning while working at Granite City Steel as a switchman in the Basic Oxygen Furnace steelmaking department.

According to a report from the local steel plant, Crawford fell from a small idler car being pushed by a narrow-gauge locomotive and was killed instantly when he was struck by the car.

The Granite City Fire Department ambulance rescue squad was called at 10:32 a.m. and found the body was 30 feet back from where he apparently fell giving reason to believe that he was drug that distance, according to their report.

Steel officials described the idler car as about the size of a desk which is used as a spacer between the engine and the cars, providing additional space between the engine crew and the heat radiated by the steel.

Mr. Crawford was pronounced dead at the scene at 10:50 a.m. by Edward Morton, Madison County deputy coroner. There will be an inquest.

In a statement from Granite City Steel division of National Steel Corp., they noted this was the first fatality at the plant since 1977.

Mr. Crawford had been an employee of the plant since April 16, 1978. He was a lifelong resident of Missouri. He and his wife, Patricia A. Crawford, resided at 1106 Garden Valley Drive, St. Peter, Mo.

Details of funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column of today's issue.

BOWL DOWN CANCER CHAIRMAN Shelly Polhman has been planning for months to help raise money for the fight against cancer. March 14-20 is "Bowl Down Cancer" week as a major fund drive.

'Bowl Down Cancer' fund raising fun

The Quad-City Unit of the American Cancer Society is conducting it's "Bowl Down Cancer" fund-raising project on league nights now through Saturday, March 20. According to Shelly Polhman, chairman of the special event, all league bowlers are invited to participate. trophy tournaments will be held on league nights at bowling allies throughout District Eight (Counties of Bond, Clinton, Jersey, Monroe, St. Clair, and Madison). All money raised goes directly into the American Cancer Society Research Fund, as well as increasing the public's awareness of the urgent battle against cancer.

Every league bowler is eligible to enter the "Pine Over Average" tournament by registering at Bowland and contributing $1 to the fight against cancer. Each participating bowling establishment in the six-county area will be given a total of six trophies, three each for men's and women's first, second, and third place winners. The trophies are on display at Bowland. Assistant Manager at Bowland, Alice Hill, has helped Shelly Polhman in organizing this effort. "We hope that all bowlers in league play at Bowland will participate in this program to win a trophy and assist in the ongoing fight against cancer," Mrs. Hill said.

BATTERY IS ALLEGED Dennis E. Mize, 27, of 209 Granville St., Venice, was charged last week with battery after James Woppert, 34, of 1223 Meridian St., was struck in the face with a hand and in the chest with a fist in the 1200 block of Meridian. Mize was freed on $52 bail. After Woppert was struck, a collision occurred near his home between the two men's vehicles.

All-Savers must be added to Illinois tax returns

If you are ready to complete your 1981 income tax returns, the Illinois Department of Revenue has a reminder for you.

Make sure on your state tax form that you correctly report any interest-dividend exclusions and interest from All-Savers Certificates.

Scores of persons who have already filed in correctly this year will be receiving notice soon from the state revenue department, together with a bill for additional taxes owed, plus interest, according to Gary Ey, deputy director of the Tax Processing Bureau.

Ey noted that Illinois taxpayers are required to add back to their state returns all amounts subtracted off the federal return for the interest-dividend exclusion and interest on All-Savers Certificates.

Taxpayers are allowed on the federal return to subtract up to $200 of interest and dividends or up to $400 on a joint return. However, those amounts must be added back for state taxation purposes, Ey explained.

Some taxpayers have neglected to add these items back for state taxation purposes or have incorrectly subtracted amounts earned from All-Savers Certificates from their federal interest-dividend exclusion amount, he said.

Persons needing assistance with their state returns may visit any of the department's Fairview Heights district offices or may call the department toll-free from 7 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays at 1-800-352-8972.

Other revenue district offices are located in Chicago, Evergreen Park, Morton Grove, Broadview, West Chicago, Wauconda, Rockford, Rock Island, Peoria, Champaign, Springfield and Marion.

For three other circuit judgeships, there are no Republicans on the primary ballot. Democrats unopposed for nominations are Mosele post Circuit Judge Charles W. Chapman of Edwardsville, (Clark position) Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick of Troy and (Barr post) Associate Judge Paul J. O'Neill of Alton.

Chapman is running only in Madison County, Moran, Evers, Rarick and O'Neill are on ballots in the entire Third Circuit, composed of Madison and Bond counties. In Bond, for a position he formerly held, the only primary candidate is Democrat John L. DeLaurenti of Pocatotas.

For congressional in the new 21st Illinois Congressional District, replacing the 23rd, the Democratic primary contenders are Cong. Melvin Price of East St. Louis, Floyd E. Fessler Jr. of Alton and Mrs. Sandra L. Cimaco of Belleville.

The 21st Congressional District is the scene of party state central committee races between incumbent Bruce M. Cook of Belleville and Mrs. Betty Jean Mays of East St. Louis, Democrats, and Robert "Bob" Glenn and James D. Radde, both of Belleville, Republicans.

State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene of Edwardsville is opposed in the 56th Legislative District's Democratic primary by Michael P. Manning of Granite City.

An unopposed Republican is State Rep. Frank C. Watson of Greenville, running for the 55th senatorial nomination. The 55th District does not include the Quad-City area but, if Portell becomes a senator, a vacancy would develop for the countywide circuit clerk position to which he was re-elected two years ago.

In the new 11th Representative District, mainly the Quad-City and Edwardsville areas, State Rep. Sam W. Wolf of Granite City is opposed in tomorrow's Democratic primary by Leo T. Pelek of Granite City.

For all six statewide offices, there is no competition tomorrow for Democratic nominations.

The Democratic primary candidates are Adlai E. Stevenson III of Hanover for governor, Mrs. Grace Mary Stern of Highland Park for lieutenant governor, Neil P. Hartigan of Chicago for attorney general, State Treasurer Jerome "Jerry" Cosentino for secretary of state, State Comptroller Roland W. Burris of Chicago for comptroller and State Senator James H. Donnewald of Breese for state treasurer.

Governor James R. Thompson of Chicago is opposed in the Republican primary by V. A. Kelley of Beecher and John E. Roche of Palos Park. The Republican nomination for lieutenant governor is sought by Illinois House Speaker George H. Ryan of Kankakee, State Sen. Donald L. Totten of Hoffman Estates and State Rep. Susan K. Catania of Chicago.

Attorney General Tyrone "Ty" Fanner of Evanston and Secretary of State Jim Edgar of Springfield are unopposed in the Republican primary, as is State Rep. Cal L. Skinner Jr. of Woodstock, running for the GOP state comptroller nomination. Republican rivals for the state treasurer nomination are W. Robert Blair of Crete and John P. Dailey of Peoria.

County housing

In signing the agreement, the housing authority pledged Thursday night to change the racial makeup of each housing project so that as close to a 65-35 percent mix of minorities and non-minorities as possible live in each project.

HUD also has directed the county to spend $500,000 for rehabilitation of minority-oriented projects, but failed to give approval yet to a grant for operational costs of the project. The housing authority requested $400,000 for operating the project.

Hunter was among those who said the authority does not force applicants into certain housing projects, but tries to honor the applicants' requests for placement. Most blacks prefer to move into predominantly black projects and most whites choose to live in predominantly white projects, board members have said.

According to Janet Harolan, executive director of the housing authority, it will cost at least $25,000 this year to implement the racial-mix portion of the plan, including adding one staff member of oversee the changes.

Members indicated that the county housing authority does not have the money to implement the program. The budget request for 1982 was 10 percent below the 1981 budget and even that has not yet been approved by the HUD regional office in Chicago. A cut in financing as much as 30 percent below last year's budget is being predicted by some, due to federal budget cuts.

Hunter predicted that the authority will have trouble forcing members of one race to move into projects where another race is dominant. HUD says that applicants who refuse such a move should be denied housing.

Hunter predicted that the new HUD guidelines would not hold up in a court challenge, should such a lawsuit be filed in the future.

VICA state competitors

A total of seven students from the Granite City School system have qualified for state competition through VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America).

Twenty-eight North and South high students competed in the VICA testing in Collinsville. Those qualifying for the state competition are Lloyd Blumenstock in industrial electronics, John Zeigler in machine trades, Rick McDaniel, Tim Bernaix and Brian Sparks in machine drafting, and Joan Boker in interior room design.

Special recognition has been given to Tom Lewis who placed first in the area of air conditioning and refrigeration.

The goal of the tested students was to be one of the 20 students in each specific vocational area to be chosen to compete April at the state level.

After the state test, the top state students will compete in national VICA testing in Knoxville, Tenn.

VICA is a new student program here with chapters at both North and South high schools. Blumenstock, a senior at South, but who attends vocational classes at both schools, was the prime organizer of the two VICA chapters.

Dinner will be served prior to the business session, which is open to club members only. Reservations will be accepted by calling 931-2626 after 5 p.m.

The agenda also will include the election of a trustee have the funds to form its own ambulance billing department. He estimated that could cost Pontoon $15,000 to $20,000 yearly. "That's going to be quite a blow," Ray said. He said he would, however, recommend to his board that it accept the controversial billing that makes a municipality responsible for the ambulance runs of its residents, even if they are picked up within the Granite City limits.

Both Supervisor Sparks and Mayor Sasyk disagreed with Granite City's insistence on charging them for their residents needing ambulance service within Granite City's limits.

"I don't think any calls that happen in

Face-to-face

Granite City should be our responsibility. You've got to take care of them anyway," Sasyk said.

Sparks said Chouteau Township is getting billed for call after call from its residents picked up in Granite City. In addition, Sparks said he is concerned about the township bearing the cost of transferring patients from St. Elizabeth Medical Center to other locations.

"When we went into the contract, we were talking about emergency care, let the guy (patient) pay," for transfers, Sparks said.

"If someone wants to transfer, let them pay the money up front," said Granite City's comptroller, Al Hudzik.

Mikovic said he would like to have St. Elizabeth Medical Center include transfer costs on the patient's bill. Mayor Sasyk agreed and asked the officials to invite the hospital's financial officers to attend the group's next meeting on Thursday.

"Hopefully, we can come up with a plan we can live with," Sasyk said. "Perhaps this could be a county obligation. The county can tax and we can't."

The mayor said the city of Madison might have its own solution in a fledgling volunteer ambulance service. The service now is available for night calls and is beginning a day service, when manpower is available.

Agronomy expert discusses overpopulation

An agronomy expert who was one of five U.S. scientists chosen to study food production problems in southern India in the '70s will discuss the population problems of the world at the March 17 Dialogue with Senior Citizens at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Genovese active on TV and in play

Mike Genovese, a graduate of Granite City schools and son of local parents, is appearing nightly through Sunday, March 21, in the principal role of the Sidney Bruhl play "Deathtrap" at the Westport Playhouse in Westport Plaza in St. Louis County.

Genovese also will appear on television at 9 p.m. Saturday, March 20, with James Arness in an episode of "McClain's Law." He also has a role opposite Maud Adams in a two-part series "Chicago Story," which will appear locally at 7:30 p.m. April 3 and 10 on Channel 5.

Marion Kumler, professor of biological sciences specializing in plant ecology, believes overpopulation is the dominant problem in all personal, national and international planning.

He sees the decline of less than one percent in the world's population over the last three years as significant, but he continues to worry about the 75 million new people the world must take care of each year. "That's about a new Edwardsville every hour," he said.

Kumler has studied and taught agriculture and grain production on four extended trips to Afghanistan and India, from 1940 to 1973. He holds degrees in education, biology and agriculture and earned a Ph.D. in plant ecology at Oregon State University in 1963.

The Dialogue meets from 1:30 to 4 p.m. in the Mississippi-Illinois Rooms of the University Center, sponsored by the SUE Gerontology Program. It is part of a continuing series

School is vandalized

A vandal who entered Nameoki Grade School, 1620 Pontoon Road, between Friday night and Sunday morning ransacked desks throughout the building and scattered paper and glue around many classrooms.

The intruder knocked several pictures from the corridor walls, breaking the pictures. A locked wooden cabinet in a hallway was forced open.

In the school cafeteria, several jugs of fruit juice were emptied onto the floor and cooler.

A preliminary check showed nothing missing from the building. But several American flags at classroom entrances were broken off and thrown onto the floor.

It is believed the vandal pushed in a window at a corner classroom and then broke a window in the adjacent room. At a third classroom, he removed a window and gained entry to the school.

University tuition hiked 15%

Tuition increases of 15 percent for undergraduate students and 20 percent for graduate students of Southern Illinois University were approved Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees, meeting at SIU at Edwardsville.

Also voted were tuition hikes of 25 percent for School of Dental Medicine students, 10 percent for School of Medicine students, and 36.5 percent for School of Law students, as well as a 10 percent boost for the cost recovery program of SIU at Carbondale and a 16.7 percent increase for extension courses of SIUE.

The increases, effective in the summer of 1982, are in the fall quarter at SIUE, are in accord with 1982-83 operating budget recommendations approved Jan. 5 by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

The new tuition rates per academic year for full-time students at SIUE will be $798 for undergraduates, $858 for graduates and $1,575 for dental students.

At SIUC, the charges will be $810 for both undergraduates and graduates students and $3,381 for medical students.

Full-time students in the SIUC cost recovery program will pay $774 tuition per year, and those taking SIUE extension courses will pay $14 per quarter hour of credit.

Non-resident students are charged three times the resident rate.

In other action, the SIU board raised student housing rates and the University Center at SIUE, with a 20 percent reduction in the student government sub-fee of the Student Welfare and Activity Fee.

A $350 increase in the University Center fee to $320, $350 or $39, depending on the number of credit hours being taken—will be effective in the summer quarter, while the other changes will be placed in effect in September.

For housing, there will be an increase of $11 per student per month for single students and a similar increase for family units.

The board deferred until its April 8 meeting at SIUC any action on a proposed $3 increase in the Athletic Fee and a $3 to $6 increase in the Textbook Rental Fee for students at SIUE.

News notes City may borrow funds from overpass surplus

A Caseyville grade school teacher was Thursday named as a Madison County grand jury on charges of engaging in sexual activity with three (male) students in two other schools several years ago. He also has been accused of lying to the grand jury about allegations of incidents with five younger girls at the Caseyville school. A St. Clair County grand jury last month refused indictments regarding the Caseyville school allegations.

Frederick Hess, 41, Belleville, may become U.S. attorney for the Southern District of Illinois by mid-spring. Endorsed last by President Ronald Reagan, he had been recommended last July by U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy. Confirmation is up to the Judiciary Committee and the Senate. Hess and Philip Weber of Springfield, both Republicans, had vied for presidential backing.

The Illinois Education Association has joined the Teachers' Union of 2500 Teachers in denouncing 1982-83 state budget proposals as containing "grim news" for schools.

W. Robert Blair, one of the candidates for the Republican state treasurer nomination, has given details of a program that he hopes would bring nearly 20,000 jobs and more than $12 million in new state revenue, with total cost to the state of $2 million in lower interest on state income tax.

College-wide goals for 1983 will be set by the Belleville Area College board at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Room 1410 of the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

State Security benefit cuts slated for May 1 could affect as many as 700 SIUC students.

The Board of School Board at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday will consider calling a referendum on county health institutions. Unused grant funds are to be transferred to the general fund, and county maps are to be updated.

alderman still may decide to purchase badly-needed emergency vehicles and fund other improvements which have been put on hold for more than a year.

The city has received an opinion from the company which issued the overpass bonds, stating that the funds can only be used for capital improvements.

"Use of these surplus funds should be limited to capital projects. Some doubt exists as to the proper use of money borrowed over a 20-year period to pay current expenses," wrote a representative of Chapman and Cutler, the Chicago bonding company.

According to Miklovic, he consulted with the city attorney, who foresaw no problem in the city borrowing the funds from its overpass account and loaning the money to the city's general fund to pay current and future bills.

The funds, however, might not be a direct "surplus" of the overpass construction cost, but the money could be at least partially the end result of constant overpass fund investing by the city.

Recommendation of liquor store

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals has recommended denial of a rezoning and a special-use permit for a package liquor store at 5429 Maryville Road, at Redwood Lane, in Chouteau Township.

Glenn L. Yates had requested rezoning of the property from an R-3 single-family residential zone to a B-1 business zoning to operate a liquor store in the existing food shop, which is in Chouteau Township.

A public hearing was held at the site and the zoning board met in the county auditor's office at Edwardsville. The board voted to recommend against granting the rezoning or the special-use permit.

The rezoning board also has endorsed a request by John W. Reese to rezoning a tract of land along Route 162 approximately 600 feet east of Mockingbird Lane, from agricultural zoning to an M-2 general manufacturing classification. No specific plans for the property have been announced.

The zoning board also has recommended the granting of special-use permits for the placement of three mobile homes. All the endorsements come with the recommendation that the permits be granted for a period not to exceed five years and that they be for the sole use and sole occupancy of the family requesting the permits.

Special use permit requests endorsed were from Leota, Alta and Mary O'Dell to place a mobile home in Poag, Chouteau Township; Donald Danabue to continue the placement of a double-wide mobile home at 3209 Harvard, in State Park Place, and James L. Richey to place a mobile home on Hillbrand, Cloverleaf Subdivision of Nameeki Township.

Friday, members decided to attempt to individualize contract aldermen for their views before the council meeting tomorrow night.

"It was felt an opportunity should be given (for aldermen) to respond, perhaps in a favorable manner," said a Community Spirit spokesman.

The spokesman said some merchants are concerned about the city's request for copies of the merchants' Illinois Department of Revenue forms, a requirement the tax be paid on items delivered outside the city, and the separate pricing and taxes required for items previously sold in sets.

Earlier the spokesman had said if there were fewer difficulties in the procedures involved in paying the tax and the using of some application procedures, the group might not challenge the sales tax.

Restore funding for Medicaid and Aid to Dependent Children

Governor James R. Thompson announced Thursday that the federal government has restored more than $20 million in funding for Illinois' Medicaid and Aid to Families with Dependent Children programs.

"This is another case where vigorous lobbying by Illinois has paid off," Thompson said. "If we had not gone to Washington to get back money we should be getting, we could have faced a lengthy appeal process that could have hurt the state's budget balance," he added.

Thompson, while in Washington in January for the National Governors' Association conference, met with White House officials and lobbied for restoration of the Medicaid and AFDC reductions.

The cuts made by the federal government were based on different estimates of third quarter spending for Medicaid and AFDC than those submitted by the state. The state originally submitted an estimate of $200 million for the federal share of Medicaid spending in the third quarter. That was reduced by about $11 million by the Department of Health and Human Services. The $11.34 million restored is higher than the actual reduction because state spending figures were later updated.

In AFDC, the original estimate submitted by the state was $98 million. The federal government reduced that by $10 million but now has restored the full $10 million.

Both programs receive funding that is split 50-50 between the federal and state governments.

Medicaid serves more than one million Illinois residents with a variety of medical services. In January, 1982, a total of 227,303 families, or 719,839 persons received AFDC.

Course offered on international travel

The Office of Continuing Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a non-credit course in planning for international travel during the spring quarter. Class sessions will meet Wednesdays from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m. in Room 2412 of Peck Classroom Building, beginning April 14.

The course should be of interest to people who have had little experience in foreign travel, as well as those who are seasoned travelers. Coursework will include organizing a trip out of the country, what to do as departure time draws near and tips on how to get the most out of the travel experience.

"As the costs of living continue to rise, people need to know where they can go and what they can do to get the most out of their money," Williams Walter, instructor for the course, said. Walter has traveled extensively, having visited 11 European countries, Africa, eight countries in the Far East, the Caribbean, South America, Canada and Mexico.

In addition to general travel information, participants will learn techniques for traveling with the handicapped, children or senior citizens; dealing with medical, dental and other types of emergencies; and getting closer to the people of the land being visited.

"There is a multitude of ways to experience a foreign land, its people and its culture that you won't find in a travel book," Walter said, adding that most of them are relatively inexpensive or cost-free.

A slide presentation on different countries will be shown at the conclusion of each session.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the SUE Office of Continuing Education at 1-692-3210.

Finance committee wants '82 cars purchased for sheriff's department

By JIM SCHLUETER
The Madison County Board Finance Committee has said that it preferred the $88,000 budgeted for purchasing sheriff's department vehicles be spent on 1982 model cars.

When working on the 1982 budget, the finance committee allocated $88,000 for the purchase of 12 new cars.

Since then, the sheriff has leased one car for $4,000 and now has an offer from Fair Motors in Edwardsville to buy four 1980 cars it has been leasing for $5,000 apiece.

If the offer is taken, it would leave $64,000, which could purchase nine cars. This means the sheriff could use his budgeted funds to purchase 14 cars instead of 12.

Finance Committee member Don McLean, Edwardsville, told the committee of the offer, which also was presented to the county's Central Services Committee. Central Services opened bids for the new cars last week.

Finance Committee Chairman William Little, Alton, said getting new cars is more important than purchasing as many vehicles as possible for the budgeted money.

"The question is, when the board adopted the budget, was it for $88,000 or 12 cars," Little said. "We should stay as close to 12 cars as we can get with that amount, and I hope Central Services feels the same way we do."

McLean said that Sheriff Emil Toffant has made no comment about the offer, saying it is up to the Central Services Committee to decide whether or not to purchase the leased cars.

The lowest bidder that met the sheriff's specifications of a six-cylinder, front-wheel drive car was Butler Chevrolet of Edwardsville, which offered a new Citation for $7,542.95. Klausmeier Ford of Alhambra offered $7,373 each for new Fairmonts, but the Fairmont does not have front-wheel drive.

In other action, County Auditor Arthur "Pete" Fields reminded the Finance Committee that six special tax funds are at the maximum rate in the 1982 budget. Fields has been updating the committee on the increasing costs and shrinking revenues that could make determining the 1983 county budget a difficult task.

"Unless assessed valuation goes up, it will be hard to increase these budgets," Fields said. "But they've got the same problems as everybody else, expenditures keep increasing."

The six are the county detention home, the elections department, the county museum, county bridges, property records and supervisor of assessments. Their rates add to 14.37 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

By JOYCE MITCHELL
When a pebble is thrown into the water, concentric circles move away from the center, disturbing the calm surface for several feet. The same holds true with the family circle when an alcoholic or chemically dependent person is at the center.

Stopping this destructive pattern was the topic of the last in a series of workshops for area ministers at St. Elizabeth Medical Center this month.

Mrs. Ginny Dellamano, family program coordinator of SEMC's chemical dependency treatment unit, Talbot Hall, told the group that the family also becomes ill when it is centered around coping with an addict's behavior.

The spouse, she said, goes through recognizable stages that coincide with the stages that the alcoholic or chemically dependent person is moving through.

In the early stages, the spouse becomes aware of the problem and begins to assume more responsibility for the family, its finances and household chores. Nagging and the need to "control" increase.

In the middle stage, the couple embarks on "the game of threats and promises."

The spouse threatens action such as divorce if things don't improve, and the addict in turn promises "reform."

He or she covers for the addict in turn promises "reform."

He or she covers for the addict with excuses of "the flu" for lost work time or missed social events. Coping becomes the most important job in life, and the spouse feels afraid, insecure, confused and angry.

By the time the advanced stage is reached, the spouse has accepted the blame for the addiction and is full of guilt.

He or she has lost nearly all self-respect and, to retaliate, may neglect the family, have affairs, take pills, go into deep depression, or even attempt suicide.

Mrs. Dellamano said that as the spouse goes through these stages, the children have assumed their own method of coping. Each one fulfills a certain role in the family.

The oldest child may become the "hero" of the good child and be very responsible.

The second one, not able to get attention for being good, may be the family "scapegoat" and keep from being ignored by negative behavior.

Another child might be the "clown." Making people laugh is a way to hide feelings and gain approval. However, this fun-lover may never fully mature or be able to handle feelings in any other way.

Sometimes the last child will be the "lost child." He or she may have withdrawn, become extremely independent, and have trouble learning to love.

Mrs. Dellamano stressed the need for "treatment for the whole family."

The first step toward family recovery lies in beginning personal growth for each person. To fulfill this need, Talbot Hall has started a family care program.

It is a five-day outpatient treatment plan for those who are having difficulty in adjusting to the recovering alcoholic.

The plan is also viewed as extremely helpful to those involved with an alcoholic or chemically dependent person who will not seek treatment.

It enables the family to learn healthy ways of dealing with the problem and to begin "caring" for the addict, rather than "taking care" of him or her.

The family care program accepts and supports the principles of Al-Anon.

Mrs. Dellamano said in the sessions that she uses a combination of lectures, group exercises and props, including dolls that represent each member of the family. The members of the group help each other through alternate confrontation and caring.

Queries about the family care program are being referred to 788-3069.

Arrest four on forgery charges

Five people were arrested and four were charged with forgery in connection with an attempt to pass an alleged stolen check last week at the downtown drive-in facility at First Granite City National Bank.

Charged with forgery in informational documents issued by the Madison County state's attorney's office were Marguerite Ferrell, 24, and Jerry Stuckey, 33, both of East St. Louis; Joseph E. Berger, 35, of St. Louis; and Robert L. Lewis, 39, of Centerville, Ill.

The four pleaded innocent in appearances before Associate Judge P. J. O'Neill in the Granite City court. Bonds of $25,000 were set on all four and mittimus were issued. They were transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

The fifth person, a woman, was released, pending further investigation.

The check allegedly was stolen from an East St. Louis firm and drawn on a St. Louis bank.

Candidate urges vote against Demo. machine

To the Editor:

Don't be a party pooper on March 16, go to the polls, whether it's rain, sleet or snow. To stay home will not get the job done. What it will do is assure that certain politicians of a "you don't care attitude," resulting in a victory for them.

It is no sin to tell whether you are a Democrat or Republican, is it? The poll judges must act in order to give the proper ballot. So let's worry them all, since a turnout usually assures the machine-type vote, (or the vote that's already counted).

I can speak of the "machine" with some knowledge of the subject. Recently, I was asked by a member of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee whether or not I would contribute money for the committee of District 19 to get me elected. My usual answer was "no" and the next thing I heard was my opponent got their blessings.

If you give the money, the committee will get out the vote and the candidate takes a trip or just waits it out. It is much easier to get elected that way, but I would rather do it my way and so it becomes a battle of independence against the massive power of the Democratic organization. The organization I had hoped to change, to encourage an open primary and more women's involvement in government.

It is indeed a cold hearted

"machine." If the price is right, the job is right. I was told at their headquarters that our town chairman, Harry Briggs, decided the Webb endorsement for County Board Member of District 19.

As if one battle is not enough, I am also up against the Namecki Township "wheels" in my precinct committee race. The supervisor highway commissioner, tax assessor, deputy and school District 9 officials are all behind my opponent for committee.

All I can say is, I must be doing something right by the people, or else I would not be such a power for the above mentioned officials to contend with.

HELEN M. HAWKINS

Contends Sasyk omitted some facts in letter

To the Editor:

Well, our mayor (Mike Sasyk) has not changed at all. He still keeps on talking and not listening to what people are talking about.

Let me just stress one point. Mayor Sasyk speaks of Casey Krakowiak deciding to drop out, well I checked the facts and found out that Mayor Sasyk drove Andy Economy to Edwardsville, Ill., just a few hours before the filing time closed on the last day a person could run for Precinct No. 8 (basically Ward 3). Now the mayor is talking about all the support (Casey) had.

In the mayor's letter to the Forum, he also tries to see into the future by stating Casey could defeat Thomas George for the precinct committee's job. One must remember the citizens in Ward 3 should decide who wins and who loses, not the mayor of the city.

(Editor's Note: Krakowiak says he was never in the race and Economy has three city-related jobs now and it was only making a true statement.)

I also read the article from the "Lifelong Resident," it did not criticize Andy Economy. The letter was informing the voters of the area in question that Economy has three city-related jobs now and it was only making a true statement.

I also read Mayor Sasyk's letter stating that Economy only drew $622 as a fireman. Mayor Sasyk failed to inform the people how much Economy made as president of the board of police and fire commissioners. The mayor further failed to mention how much Economy makes towing cars for the city.

I know Andy (Economy) does a fine job, and I am not writing this to attack Andy. The purpose of this letter is to point out to the citizens the way the mayor has "left out" certain facts.

The letter from the "lifelong resident" pointed out some of these forgotten facts.

The letter from the "lifelong resident" also told me it is, and not just one side or just part of the truth. I feel the people of Madison deserve the entire truth, not just the way Mayor Sasyk would like to have the voters believe it to be.

I also am a "lifelong resident" of Madison and not afraid to sign my name.

Committee feels Henkhaus ignored taxpayers

To the Editor:

For the past seven years, I have been active at the state and local level with regard to property tax reform. Presently, I am chairman of the Illinois Public Action Council, the most active and effective advocate for the average taxpayer in Illinois today.

As a Madison County taxpayer, the inequality of the assessment system infuriates me. But even more infuriating is the fact that thousands of our hard-earned tax dollars have gone to area bankers. We pay our taxes for police and fire protection, to pave our roads and educate our children — not to enrich the banking industry.

This has happened because of extremely inefficient management of our tax dollars by the present county treasurer, Michael "Mike" Henkhaus. To make matters worse, Henkhaus has run his office as if it were his own private property. A local school official was evicted from his office with rude and obscene language for questioning delays in disbursement of tax revenues which were months overdue. He has displayed total disregard for the rights of organized labor in his office. He has repeatedly rejected increased use of data processing to make his office more efficient. And recently, he has only hired officials who would not voluntarily participate in a compromise worked out by the police union and state attorney and county clerk to aid taxpayers in recovering money due them because of an assessment error.

These actions have paid one obvious dividend — It insured excellent attendance by county bankers at Mr. Henkhaus' $50 per-plate fund-raiser.

In contrast, Mr. Henkhaus' opponent, Fred Painter, has pledged immediate tax disbursements as his No. 1 priority. He is committed to the increased use of data processing to insure efficiency and he will maintain an open door policy and spirit of cooperation for all taxpayers and local officials. But more importantly, he has actively solicited the problems, complaints and advice of local officials and taxpayers on the East side of Madison County — something a county-wide Democratic candidate has not done for all too long.

All too often, as Democrats, we have been denied the opportunity to cast our vote for dedicated, qualified candidates. We are lucky in this election — We have the opportunity to strike a blow for quality in county government by supporting Fred Painter for county treasurer.

Questions Economy's roles

To the Editor:

Thank you for printing my letter in Thursday's Press-Record, as well as the reply from Madison Chief of Police Donald Bridick.

The chief's reply misses the most important point of my letter — Andy Economy is police commissioner and simultaneously the policeman whose jurisdiction is ordered that all police towing should be given exclusively to Economy's towing firm. This is surely inappropriate.

The Chief of Police talks about the fine cooperation he has received from Economy's towing firm and, if that were all there was to it, perhaps the city of Madison would be justified in doing business exclusively with Economy's towing company.

Since Economy is police commissioner, I feel it is wrong that policemen be ordered to do business exclusively with Economy's firm.

Accordingly, I feel that Economy should not be elected precinct committee man and I hope the people of Precinct Eight vote for me instead.

Pelek appeals for signs to be left alone

To the Editor:

Come on, let's give me a chance. I'm just a "poor average American" trying to run for office.

What I'm talking about is, my signs. Even though they are "home made" and not as fancy as the bought ones, please let the public see them. Quit tearing them down and putting other signs over mine. Not only here in the Quad-Cities, but throughout the district.

This has been and will remain a very clean campaign on my part, even though your workers keep tearing down and picking up my signs, therefore, keeping the public unaware and uninformed that Sam Wolf has any opposition.

Come on, let's quit being childish and act as grown-ups. My integrity is such that I cannot stoop to such tactics. I will conclude this campaign the way it began — "clean and with principle and ethics."

COPE seeks unseating of Treasurer Henkhaus

To the Editor:

Early in 1978, Michael Henkhaus appeared before the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) requesting labor's endorsement for county treasurer. Based on his statements of strong support for labor's goals and his union membership, he received a labor endorsement for the office.

On Dec. 4, 1978, all newly-elected officials took their office. By Jan. 22, 1979, Mr. Henkhaus had fired four of his employees, two with more than seven years seniority and two of his employees with more than six years seniority. Two other employees were forced to retire, one of these had only a few months to work until age 65.

Henkhaus fired these members of Local 799, American Federation of State County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, knowing that they were working under a union contract that provided for a grievance procedure and arbitration, which he refused to honor. He also knew one of those fired was vice-president and one was a steward of Local 799.

The C.O.P.E. Committee is very disappointed in Mr. Henkhaus' failure to live up to the union principles he spoke of so strongly only a few months before.

Therefore, we urge all of the union membership living in Madison County to vote in the March 16 primary election and for those taking a Democratic ballot, vote for either Robert C. Stille or Fred Painter for county treasurer.

Views dispute differently

To the Editor:

I would like to thank Don Bridick (Madison chief of police) for the free advertising.

Yes, I do have towing service in the city of Madison, which he did state correctly. However, his other comments are not quite accurate and I would like to inform everyone of the true circumstances.

First of all, I do have 24-hour towing service, which also is prompt. Unfortunately, I have only been of the towing business for two years and have only been able to acquire two trucks, instead of three, like Lee & Andy's.

How they have been able to purchase three trucks and do all the free towing for the city of Madison is beyond me. I would like to know how much has been made on towing, storage and insurance repairs as a result of the towing for the city.

I, too, could do a few favors for the police department if I had just the amount of towns Andy gets paid for and profits by.

The incident which Don Bridick spoke of in August, 1980, was the second tow which I had received from the city. The first call I received was for a friend of Chief Bridick's. He asked if I could do him a favor and give the guy a break. I said I

Mini-mall will aid Madison

To the Editor:

In response to the lady who wrote the letter on Monday, March 8 about the amount of wood being used in the two stores in the mini-mall, it is wonderful how much the person who wrote the letter really knows about roof construction.

Since Reese Drug Store and the Farm Fresh store are paying for the buildings, what business is it of anybody's what kind of roof is constructed?

(Editor's Note: The mini-mall is being constructed with federal grant funds, both Economic Development and Community Development grants, but the stores will pay rent which will eventually pay for the construction, plus will provide a continuing source of income to the city as well as more jobs and taxes.)

If the job was done poorly and the contractor skimped on materials, would that make everything OK?

I have been a citizen of Madison for over 30 years and I am disgusted with people who are constantly negative about our city, and are continually mouthing their petty gripes and prejudices against the city officials. It is this element that detracts from our city and all of the fine people who live in Madison.

When it comes time to vote, I will support those people who are trying to help the city of Madison, not those who would tear it down.

A CITIZEN OF MADISON and proud of it!

Supports Gaughan for board

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter on behalf of a very dedicated and sincere candidate for election to the Madison County Board in the Democratic primary March 16.

He is a lifelong resident of Granite City, such as his mother and late father, and his candidacy is based on honesty and integrity, with sincere expectations of goals he hopes to obtain with other members like the Madison County Board. He has also promised to maintain taxes at their present level or make any decreases in taxation, if possible.

He has attended various County Board meetings on his own time to acquaint himself with the present and future problems of the County and he is prepared to intelligently participate in operations of the County Board and problems in District 21.

He has been through the entire circuit and initiated a door-to-door campaign by personal contact to find out what problems people consider need immediate attention, now and in the future. This personal contact has given him a wide range of what the people would hope to have achieved.

There are three candidates in this election, and none of the seven Democratic Precinct Committee support this candidate in District 21. He has maintained a clean, honest and sincere campaign with no malice toward anyone.

Whoever he did, it is his personal finances and accepted no money from anyone during this election. He has no obligation to anyone, if elected. All of his help and workers are sincere volunteers.

We would appreciate any help or assistance anyone might give us to elect Robert "Bob" Gaughan as a county board member on March 16. Please give a young man an opportunity to express himself in our behalf.

Senator Sam reacted to plea

To the Editor:

I read in the paper this past week of one of Sam Vadalabene's ads. I just felt that I had to write this letter and explain what these words mean to me.

Personally, I've never met Sam, but with his words, there is no need to meet him. Let me explain why. Years back, when the vanity license numbers came out, I applied for the name and number that I wanted. When they came out, the plate I requested was given to me. I had it for few years when I lost it.

I had applied for it in a reasonable length of time, but for some reason, someone else in this state also wanted it. I wrote to the License Division and asked why my plate was taken away. They wrote me a letter telling me that they were sorry, but I was too late in applying for it.

Well, this made me just a little bit mad and I figured I was not going to let this go by. I then thought I would write to Sam and tell him what had happened. He said that he would go to the License Office and see what happened. He later requested that I send him my canceled check.

Whoever he did, it was just a matter of a few months and my plate came to me.

I have never before entered a man for office, but I think I owe this to Sam for what he did for a little guy.

I'm sure that if you have any kind of problem that Sam can help you with, his only special interest will be you.

The available balance in Illinois general funds at the end of February was $77 million, a drop of $25 million from the preceding month-end balance and the lowest such balance in the last 46 months ($74 million in April 1978).

Comptroller Roland W. Burris called the balance "worrisome" in terms of potential cash flow problems and noted that the $77 million figure is $182 million lower than the balance of $259 million on the same date last year.

DRESSING FOR SUCCESS. J. Barry Bingham, director of personnel at Monsanto Agricultural Products Co., tells business students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville how to package themselves for the market the same way Monsanto packages its products. Senior Citizen Fair March 22

The annual Senior Citizens Fair, a day of special events and activities for older Americans, is scheduled Monday, March 22, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The fair is sponsored by the university's Gerontology Program.

In addition to crafts, hand-drawn displays and ballroom dancing to the Frank Cherry Orchestra, the fair will feature a variety of workshops and preventive health presentations. Free screenings to detect hearing loss, glaucoma and oral diseases will be included.

The day-long event also will include recreational, social, educational and cultural activities. The presentations provide senior citizens with opportunities to obtain information on social service agencies and programs that can be of help to them.

The fair will be from 9 a.m.

to 3 p.m. in the University Center at SIUE. Senior citizens throughout the St. Louis Metropolitan area are being urged to attend. There is no charge.

Nutrition Fair at hospital March 25

The American Dietetic Association has designated March as Nutrition Month, according to Mrs. Nancy Wargin, chief dietitian at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. This special observance is to remind us of the importance of proper nutrition in maintaining good health and a high energy level—a time to re-examine, gather information and set goals to improve our eating habits.

To help achieve this, the SEMC dietitians are planning a Nutrition Fair for Thursday, March 25. The fair will be held in the Medical Center's Wiesman Room from 1 to 3 p.m. and will be open to the community.

Mrs. Wargin said the afternoon will include a variety of games, snacks and an information booth. There will be no charge for attending the Fair, but there will be a minimal fee for games. Medical Center dietitians will be on hand to answer questions and pass on tips to help make meals nutritious, tempting and easy, a spokesman said.

PILOT POWER PLANT WILL BURN ILL. COAL

Illinois will build an $11.5 million demonstration dry scrubber system for the largest state-owned power plant, located on the Champaign-Urbana campus of the University of Illinois.

The advanced scrubber system, which will burn between 100,000 and 112,000 tons of Illinois coal per year, will be installed at the university's Abbott Power Plant. Construction is expected to begin this fall. Gov. James R. Thompson said, "This scrubber system is not required to meet federal clean air standards, but the project will put us one step closer to the development of a system that will allow Illinois coal to be burned more cheaply and efficiently."

Chamber hears IEPA viewpoint

The Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce held its second in a series of Economic Development Training Programs last week at St. Elizabeth Medical Center's Pascal Hall.

Municipal financing and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency's (IEPA) role in industrial location were the two major topics heard by about 42 community leaders.

Alan Richardson, executive vice-president of the Chamber, said the those attending the meeting included Mayor Paul Schuler and several Granite City aldermen.

Richardson said the discussion by Don Estell, vice-president and director of municipal financing of Stifel Nicolaus & Co., gave an overall view of industrial revenue bonds.

The future of that form of low-interest financing might not be so bright, according to Estell, who said he felt there would be significant curtailment of the bonds due to pending federal legislation.

Richardson said the laws could "impact the major 2,000 firms in the United States."

Another representative of Stifel Nicolaus spoke on the ways tax increment financing could be used to assist in projects such as the Granite City downtown redevelopment plan.

Jim Malloney, IEPA spokesman, gave the agency's viewpoint on regulations affecting industrial development in this region. He explained how the IEPA could work with industry interested in moving into a pollution limited area. He maintained that flexibility existed within the agency that could allow further growth here.

Richardson said the two remaining economic discussions will be held March 18 (Thursday) and March 24 (Wednesday). Both meetings will be held at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

This week the discussion will focus on the roles of labor and transportation in attracting new industrial plants. Speakers are expected from the Spirit of St. Louis Labor-Management Commission and the Monsanto Corp. Distribution Department.

March 26, a talk will cover various successful marketing techniques at the community level.

News notes

Belleville Mayor Richard Brauer has resigned from the St. Clair County Transit District board and urged that St. Clair, Madison and Monroe counties form a joint transit district.

More than 75,300 Illinois residents have applied for funds to help pay their energy bills since the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program began taking applications a month ago.

A state advisory committee is being formed to study Illinois law enforcement practices and legislation.

Attorney General Tyrone Fahner has announced that operators of the Earthline waste site at Wilsonville have formerly agreed to abandon their appeal of court orders closing the site, and have agreed to implement a project to remove hazardous wastes stored there.

Motorists are paying an average of nine cents per gallon less at the pumps than they were three months ago. The lowest price being reported is 99.9 cents for self-service regular gasoline, which is being sold for an average of $1.12 in this metropolitan area and in Missouri (compared to $1.22 in December). Unleaded self-serve has dropped from $1.33 to $1.23, while full-service stations' unleaded fuel has decreased from $1.41 to $1.34.

A. H. Mason, 1408 Norwood Drive, Granite City, has won $500 in an Illinois State Lottery bonus selection among $1 instant game players.

Illinois Power Co. customers used 2 percent less electricity last year but paid 9.4 percent more for it, the utility's annual report to stockholders says. Rates were hiked last July.

North among schools in SIUE math contest

Regional competition in the Illinois High School Mathematics Contest, drawing entries from 21 area high schools, including Granite City High School North, will be held Saturday, March 20, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Paul Phillips, associate professor of mathematics, will coordinate the competition at SIUE, where 400 students will compete as individuals and teams in both large and small school categories.

The contest, organized by the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics with financial assistance from CNA Insurance Companies, involves 208 schools in regional sites. The winners from each region will move to the state finals May 1 at Normal.

Competition is open to students in grades 9 through 12 in 11 different events, from oral presentations and relays to calculator competition or two-person and 10-person teams. Questions will test skills in factoring, logarithms, inequalities, logical reasoning and creative analysis used in algebra through pre-calculus.

Plaques and ribbons will go to individuals and schools with the highest scores in both Class A and AA categories, based on accuracy and speed. The awards ceremony will begin at 1:30 p.m. at SIUE. Entries are: Class A (fewer than 750 students): Gibault (Waterloo), Lebanon, Marissa, Red Bud, Sandoval, Soudersville (Piasa), Sparta, St. Henry's Prep Seminary (Belleville), Valmeyer, Weslin (Trenton) and Waterloo high schools.

Class AA (more than 750 students): North Belleville East, Belleville West, Lincoln (East St. Louis), Edwardsville, Highland, Jersey Community (Jerseyville), O'Fallon Township, Salem, and East St. Louis high schools.

The ICTM regionals also are open to any local high school math teacher as observer, Phillips said. For additional information, interested persons may call him at 692-2382.

Tri-Cities: A training ground for powerlifters

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

The smell of liniment is strong in the basement of the Tri-City YMCA. Strong enough to clear the sinuses.

The sound of clanging, jingling barbells comes from the second door on the right, the source of the icy-hot liniment, and the home of the Tri-City Powerlifting Club.

Walking through the door, six pairs of eyes dart towards the intruder. This is their domain.

Their size is intimidating.

Here, massive shoulders and biceps are commonplace.

Ostracism is momentary. An arm is extended for a handshake. The hand is massive and calloused from working with the iron.

"We're glad you could make it," came a voice.

Club member Greg Mathes explained the workouts were rigorous, as competition dates draw near.

"This is probably the final heavy workout for most of them before competition," Mathes said.

Ten club members will compete this weekend, March 20 and 21, in the Ozark Powerlifting Championships held at Madison's Englebert Hall. At least four have received national recognition for their prowess in the sport, and one is internationally rated.

Curt Mathes, the team captain, is rated fifth in the world in the squat lift. He has been lifting for 11 years. He started the sport initially to put additional weight on his then 145 pound frame. Now, at 275 pounds, he is ranked nationally among the top 100 lifters.

Rick Wickham, at 220 pounds, is called "the best pound for pound lifter in the St. Louis area," by his peers. He is nationally rated.

Mark Seago, another 220 pound lifter,

"I try to get good form, concentrate and get under the weight. Afterwards, I try to recall my lift, and can't. I'm blank."

Curt Mathes

Powerlifting team captain is also recognized as one of the nation's best.

The final Tri-City lifter who has received national acclaim for his lifting is Leland Mathes. Mathes excels in bench press competition.

They will be competing against as many as 60 other lifters from six other teams from Illinois and Missouri.

Greg Mathes, usually a lifter, has sacrificed his competitive status to direct and manage the meet.

One of his accomplishments in organizing the meet has been the securing of powerlifter Larry Pacifico. Pacifico is a nine-time world champion powerlifter in the 220 pound weight class.

This is the first time the annual meet has been held in Madison, and only the second time it has been held in Illinois. Roxana was the site of the other Illinois meet in 1980.

There will be a first at the Englebert Hall competition this year, girl's competition.

The girl's competition, and men's 114 through 181 pounds, will compete Saturday. The remainder of the men's competition (196 pounds through super heavyweights) will compete on Sunday.

Competition for both days begins at 10 a.m.

Mathes said that unlike the men's competition, each women's weight class champion will be calculated by using the Malone Formula. The formula permits officials, by using coefficients, to determine the champion by figuring what woman has lifted the most weight per body-pound.

An overall champion will be determined similarly using the Schwartz Formula.

All lifters will compete in three different types of lifts: the squat lift, the bench press and the dead lift. The sum of those three lifts will determine each weight class champion.

When doing the squat lift each contestant is required to shoulder the weight behind their head, squat to a point at which the knee and hip joint are at the same height, and return to an erect standing position.

Lifters doing the bench press are required by United States Powerlifting Federation rules, to raise the weight from a motionless position just above their chest, to a position in which both arms are extended.

To record a successful dead lift, competitors must raise the bar from the floor to a standing position in which the contestants' knees are locked and shoulders back.

Trophies will be awarded to the first five place lifters of each weight class. Team trophies will be awarded to the three teams scoring highest.

Contestants will receive seven points for their team for each first place finish, five for second, three for third, two for fourth and a single point for a fifth place finish.

Powerlifters are often thought of as having more brawn than brains. That can't be said about members of the Tri-City YMCA team.

One Tri-City team member, who will compete this weekend, is working on a master's degree, another is an art teacher, another has his doctorate, and yet another manages a local night club.

There's a common misconception about powerlifters," Mathes said. "Many people confuse powerlifters with body builders."

"It's true, at times our workouts are similar, but for the most part they're totally different."

Mathes said the major difference between powerlifters and body builders was the strength difference. Powerlifters, generally speaking, are stronger. Body builders, he said, work out with less weight, but do more total lifts, repetitions.

He explained this led to swollen blood-filled muscles, the desire of a body builder.

Team captain Mathes called powerlifting "a technique sport," whereas body building concentrates less on technique.

"Technique is the all important thing. A mediocre lifter, who has excellent technique, will lift more than another lifter who may be stronger," Mathes said.

"When I get up there," Mathes said positioning himself as he was going to lift, "I try to get good form, get under the weight, and lift. I think of nothing. You can't think of anything. Afterwards, I try to recall my lift afterwards, and I can't. I'm blank."

Hopefully, Mathes will have at least some recollection of his lifting activities, as he attempts to improve on his international status of 800 pounds in the squat lift.

POWERLIFTER. Curt Mathes, Tri-City Powerlifting Club team captain, finishes this squat lift in preparation for competition this weekend. Mathes, and nine other club members, will compete against as many as 60 other powerlifters from Missouri and Illinois Saturday and Sunday at Englebert Hall in Madison.

Trojanettes win, meet Bunker Hill

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

EAST ST. LOUIS — Madison's girls basketball team wanted to get out of the shadow of the boys' accomplishments this season.

Yes, the Trojanettes won their third straight regional championship Thursday, defeating regional host East St. Louis Assumption 58-30, but the Trojanettes would like something more.

"We want to get farther than the boys did this season," senior Traci Parker said.

By winning the regional, the Trojanettes have advanced as far as their male counterparts. If Madison can defeat Bunker Hill tonight in the first round of the Class A Sectional Tournament at Stanton, they will have gone farther than the boys have. The boys lost to Vandalia in the first round of the Sectionals March 2.

Tonight's Madison-Bunker Hill game begins at 8 p.m. The winner of that game will play either Carlinville or Pittsfield, the winner of Monday's 6:30 p.m. game, for the championship Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

The winner advances to the Carlinville Supersectional, which will be played at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

"We want to go as far as we can," Madison coach Carol Stearns said. "We'd like to go all the way. We've got to get settled down and play a good game all the way through."

The Trojanettes started so slowly that they were tied with the Pioneers 6-all in the second quarter.

Madison started out in a 1-2 zone press, but the offense couldn't take advantage of the low score. Stearns then installed a man-to-man defense, and that snapped the Trojanettes out of their slump.

The second quarter was an example of things to come. Madison outscored Assumption 12-4 in the fourth quarter, shutting out the Pioneers in the late minutes of the quarter, to take a 18-10 lead at halftime.

"When we went to the man-to-man, that made the difference in the game," Stearns said.

It wasn't until the third quarter when Madison's offense began rolling. Nancy Mikolaszuk led Madison with 22 points and Miss Jacks scored 18 points. Miss Walker added 14 points for the Trojanettes.

Monyee Wright was the only Assumption player in double figures (10 points).

"It's great when you get three players in double figures," coach Stearns said.

"We were slow getting started. Our defense wasn't playing well, but when we changed we started to play hard. From that point on we played a good game," she said.

Madison, 13-4 for the season, has a tough assignment tonight in stopping Bunker Hill. The Minutemaid is 20-2 for the season. Through February, Bunker Hill was southwestern Illinois' only undefeated Class A team.

Bunker Hill is led by a scoring trio made up of senior Kristi Girth, junior Debbie Wallace and sophomore Julie West.

"I don't know anything about their three girls because I haven't had the chance to see them," coach Stearns said.

"But then again, Bunker Hill doesn't know about our three girls either."

Madison has lost in the first round sectional game two years in a row. In 1980, Bunker Hill eliminated the Trojanettes in the sectionals.

Graham's requests denied, resignation expected Thursday

Larry Graham, Madison High School's virtuoso basketball coach, has submitted a letter to that district's school board announcing his resignation. The board is scheduled to act on the matter Thursday evening at its meeting.

"To my knowledge, it is true that Mr. Graham has submitted a letter of resignation," Sam Dymas, school board president said Sunday.

Beyond that, Dymas, Superintendent of Schools John Palchiff or Graham said little on the subject.

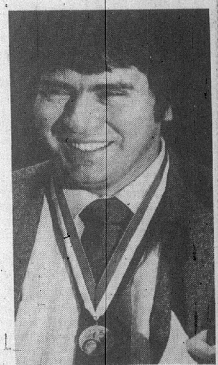

Palchiff verified that Graham had submitted a letter to the board, but "would not speculate as to the contents of the letter."

"It'll be revealed at the meeting," Palchiff said.

Graham, who just last year coached the Madison basketball team to a Class A state championship, said the letter of resignation was not submitted because he had accepted another coaching position.

"No, I don't have something else lined up. I'm not going to run over and coach someplace else." He stopped short of divulging why he submitted the letter.

"I'm gonna coach somewhere next year. It may be a Y (YMCA) league, but I'll coach somewhere," Graham said.

Larry Graham

Reportedly, Graham's letter of resignation stemmed from the board's denial of granting him $150 to attend the Class A state basketball championships in Champaign over the weekend.

"That's right. I made a request. They denied it. It was their (the school board's) doing," Graham said.

Cougars sponsor first basketball camp

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Head Coach Tom Pugliese has announced that beginning June 20, he, and a staff of the best high school and college coaches in the area, will conduct the first ever overnight summer basketball camp at SIUE.

The camp, which will feature three sessions for boys between the ages of eight and 18 and girls between the ages of 10 and 19, is scheduled to begin with a boys session June 20-26. The girls camp is set for June 27 through July 3, while a second boys camp will be offered July 11-17. With each session, the campers arrive on Sunday afternoon and depart the following Saturday. All campers will be housed in Tower Lake Apartments on campus and be provided three well-balanced meals per day. Total cost of each week-long camp is $139 per camper.

The camp's director, Coach Pugliese, came to SIUE after six years as associate coach at Washington State University. While at WSU, Pugliese teamed with Head Coach George Raveling to lead the Cougars to the second best record in the Pacific 10 Conference. Only the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA) won more games in the conference than Washington State after Pugliese's arrival in Pullman.

For further information, or to obtain a camp brochure, please contact the SIUE athletic department or Coach Pugliese by calling (618) 692-2023 or writing Coach Pugliese at Southern Illinois University

Warrior Tracksters

Warrior cindermen young, competitive

By ROSE KRAMER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The 1982 track season could be an interesting one for the Granite City South boys and girls track teams.

The Warriors are young in both genders, but they have some experienced personnel who could make the Warriors one of the better teams in the Gateway East Conference.

"Overall, we're pretty young," South head coach Mel Bunting said. "We'll be looking forward to this year. When you Blasingame, Jon Frangoulis and Paul Whitworth will be the Warriors' long and triple jumpers. Junior Brian Pithers and sophomore Paul Smith will be South's high jumpers.

Bunting made the point repeatedly the Warriors are young, but he thought South could have a good season in the conference.

"In the conference, Edwardsville is the team to beat in both boys and girls. They have a lot of good individuals. It will be a matter of how well we progress which will determine where go through a few meets, you get experience, and we may surprise some people by the end of the year."

Granite South

Although Bunting was specifically referring to the boys, the same could be applied to the girls.

"We're looking for a good season," Dave McClain, who is in charge of the girls, said. "We have most junior and sophomores, and they should come along. We have some freshmen who will no doubt break some school records."

Both the boys and girls have experienced personnel who could set the momentum for the younger tracksters. First, the boys.

Steve DuMont, Dave McLean, Ron Brown and Jim McQuaid, all seniors, have run distance events for the Warriors since their freshman year. They are the reasons South will be strong in the distance events.

"I'm looking for a big year out of McLean. He should be very competitive this season," Bunting said.

The sprinters are a little more suspect as far as experience goes. Jeff Hoese, Rich Momphard, Ed Cowley and Bill Abbott are South's sprinters. Scott Abbott and Dan Harris should be South's hurdlers this season.

Bunting is expecting good things out of Hoese. "He's as good as any sophomore I've seen for a long time."

What may be hurting the Warriors more than anything is the soggy track conditions created by the weather.

"We've been practicing indoors because we can't get out on our track. It hurts you in the hurdles because you can only practice on two hurdles at a time instead of a full set of hurdles. We have plenty of time in which to condition ourselves before the big meets," Bunting said.

Throwing the shot and discus for South will be Don Hammond, Kevin McBee, Jerry Zarr and freshman Jeb

we can compete with them," Bunting said.

The girls also have some talent returning and some of the younger girls could prove to be assets as the season wears on.

Julie DeRuntz is probably South's top individual at this time. She will run both the 100 and 300 low hurdles, a leg of the mile relay, and participate in the long jump.

"She's a horse," McClain said of the senior.

"She's a part of several school records during the years."

Mary Romine, Dana Evans and Connie Williamson will be the girls' top distance runners this season.

It will be the younger girls who will have to excel if South as a team will excel.

Lisa Adams, a freshman, set a school record in the high jump during her first high school meet Saturday. She leaped 5'2" in the meet for the record.

Other freshmen expected to contribute to the Warriors, because of their speed included Lynnette Williams, Robin York, Chris Loyet, Stacy DeWitt and Cathy Thornberry.

Jenny Robinson is a sophomore who will be put to work. She will throw the shot put and the disc and will high jump for the Warriors.

Trish Skinner will be in the long jump and the mile relay. Senior Patty Stanley will run the 100 meter dash and a leg of the 400 relay. Judy Tudor will be South's top hurdler.

"We don't know about the middle distances yet (the 400 and 800)," McClain said. "We still want to see what our freshmen can do in these events."

The next girls meet will be March 22 when the Warriors host Madison in a dual track meet. The varsity boys are not active until April 3 when they run in the Belleville East Invitational.

GREEN LAWNS

GO WITH EXPERIENCE...

WE'RE CELEBRATING OUR 25th YEAR... This area's oldest lawn spray company... we invented it.

We know, as all agronomists know, that the secret to beautiful grass is properly scheduled applications of fertilizer, weed killers to control both grass type (crabgrass) and broadleaf (dandelions - chickweed) weeds and insecticide to control webworms, chinch bugs, etc.

Included in our spray program are applications of SLOW RELEASE NITROGEN that NEVER STOPS FEEDING as long as your grass is growing and actually slows down its feeding during periods of low rainfall when it's not needed. If your lawn isn't receiving applications of... NITROFORM®... you're not getting your money's worth.

THE GREEN LAWNS PLAN...

Provides five sprays — early Spring, late Spring Summer, late Summer, early Fall, and Fall. It supplies fertilizers just when your lawn needs them. Five broadleaf weed sprays to control dandelion, chickweed, buckhorn, plantain spurge... Those weeds that seem never to stop coming up from early Spring to late Fall. Crabgrass control and insecticide applications in the Summer.

RATES FOR THE GREEN LAWNS PROGRAM ARE BASED ON THE AREA TO BE TREATED. NOT TOTAL LOT SIZE. AND... THE LARGER THE LAWN THE LOWER THE COST PER 1000 SQUARE FEET.

OUR PROGRAM CONTINUES YEAR AFTER YEAR — REQUIRES NO CONTRACT AND PROVIDES FOR PAYMENT BY MAIL AFTER EACH APPLICATION FOR AS LONG AS YOU DESIRE AFTER THE FIRST FIVE APPLICATIONS (5% DISCOUNT FOR PRE-PAYMENT).

Students to pay

A national non-profit sports and education foundation has endorsed the right of school boards to charge students fees for participation in athletic programs.

Called "pay for play," these fees are at the center of growing controversy and discussion about the financing of school sports. The Boosters Clubs of America endorsed the concept in an editorial in its March newsletter, "Boost."

"We felt we had to take a position," said BCA Executive Director Bill Palmer. "Pay for play" is simply one way in which school sports programs can continue to exist.

"Funds now raised through 'pay for play' are minimal and probably stay that way. But local school boards must have the right to institute the fees, and that right is being challenged in several courts," said Palmer.

He added that "the charge against 'pay for play' is that it is discriminatory against those who cannot afford the fees. This is pure bunk. Most student athletes are the kinds of kids who will go out and cut grass, deliver groceries or collect deposit bottles to earn their $25 or $50 fee. At any rate, we advocate that any child who truly cannot afford the fee be permitted to play regularly. In this way participation will not be hurt."

Excerpts from the editorial, which was signed by Palmer for the organization, are reprinted below:

"The Boosters Clubs of America strongly supports the right of local school boards to charge fees for participation in athletic programs."

"We will oppose, in word, action and in the press those who may try to crush pay for play."

"... pay for play is a stop-gap measure in school fundraising. There are no figures (BCA is compiling them now) but of the billions raised for school sports, participation fees are but a pittance."

"Fair and equitable provision can and must be made for students unable to pay, for families with several children in school at once. Pay for play can be so constructed — and must be — so that no student or program is the victim of discrimination."

Cougars prep for Cowboy Classic

EDWARDSVILLE — The tennis Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are gearing up for one of the most prestigious tournaments of the year, the Oklahoma State University Cowboy Classic, scheduled to get underway March 19, after pushing their dual meet record to 5-4 with their fourth win in a row, a decisive 7-2 victory last weekend over Northwestern University.

The three-day Cowboy Classic will match the defending four-time NCAA Division II champion Cougars against Iowa State University, Wichita State University, North Texas State University, the University of Illinois, Oklahoma City University, Tyler (Texas) Junior College and the host team from OSU.

Last Friday, in Evansville, the Cougars' top four singles players and their three doubles teams upended the Wildcats, 7-2. NCAA Division II national champion Ken Flach opened the competition with a 6-2, 6-3 victory over Dan Weiss, while freshman Robert Seguso topped Jon Kamifur, 6-1 and 6-3.

The Cougars' number three singles player, American Doug Burke, followed Flach and Seguso with a 3-6, 6-4, 6-2 victory over Steve Guzman. Men's Sleszyn, a sophomore from Aniwerp, Belgium, made it four in a row for the Cougars as he upset Mike Krebs, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3.

In the doubles competition, the Cougars swept the Wildcats in straight sets as Flach and Seguso defeated Weiss and Kamifur, 6-4, 7-6. Burke and Ray Kuzav handed Tom O'Flynn and Bill Schaffer a 6-3, 6-4 setback, and Sleszyn and Joe Vassallo defeated Quannine and Krebs, 6-3 and 7-6.

GRANITE CITY — Head coach Harry Lang firmly believes the Granite City North girls' and boys' track teams have potential.

The question is whether they will develop that potential into success. Both the boys' and girls' teams are young and inexperienced, but strong in character. Lang is hoping the character will compensate for the youth.

"You need character to develop talent and get in shape," Lang said. "Track is a work sport. Just through the personality of my sport, the kids that are out with me now will be out with me for the rest of the season and they'll take on some character. We'll work hard."

Lang, and five assistant coaches, are in charge of North's track program. They don't coach boys or girls but events. David Ames coaches the pole vault and high jump and Larry Curry directs the shot put and discus events.

In charge of the middle distance runners is Pete Robinson. Judy Roschen coaches the long distance runners, with Bryan Wilkinson in charge of the hurdling and sprinting events. Lang helps out with the sprinters and coaches the long jumpers.

The one word Lang would use to describe the boys' team is solid. "I feel from the 100 through the quarter, we're going to be solid. It's too early to tell if anybody is going to be outstanding. We haven't established any super stars but we're going to be solid," Lang said.

"I think we're going to be competitive. We're going to surprise a lot of people. We lost a lot of seniors. Our attitude is good. This is probably the hardest working bunch I've ever coached."

Running the sprint events, the 100, 200 and 400 yard dashes, will be seniors Doug Sheppard, Joel Hubert, Todd George and David Davis, and juniors Alan Prengle, David Long, Tim Dean, Jim Howard and Jeff Linbaugh. Sophomore John Kindle is also expected to see varsity action.

Davis, Howard and sophomore Darren Jones will compete in the hurdle events. Davis will also compete in the decathlon.

Lang believes the team's success depends upon how well the middle distance runners can do. Currently, the team is lacking in the 300 meter run distances.

Seniors Brian Pickens and Bob Portell and juniors Bill Schaefer, Blake Monical, Brad Hart and David Smith and sophomore Ed Thomas will share the middle distance running duties.

At the long distance, the 1,600 and 3,200 meter runs, the team's youth is evident. "Our distance crew is nothing more than the product of our cross country team," Lang said. "Our cross country team had zero seniors on it."

"It will hurt us from a strength standpoint. We've got some quality there. We're young but we have some quality."

Junior Kenny Meyer and sophomores Jim Robertson and John Peters will compete in the distance events.

Lang has high hopes for the field events. "I've got what I call proven points in the field events. On the track, we don't have a lot of proven points," Lang said.

Much of that hope lies with long jumpers David Long and Alan Prengle. "That might be our best event as far as a one-two punch. That might be my strength as far as quality and depth," Lang said.

High jumping will be David Davis. Ron Rowden and Mark Sweeney or Jon Dohler will share the pole vaulting duties.

Throwing the shot put and discus will be seniors David Rensing and Tom Crawford and junior John Morris and Paul Ballew.

The boys' team has one more indoor meet at Illinois State University on Saturday before opening their outdoor season in a triangular meet March 22 against O'Fallon and Mascoutah at O'Fallon.

The biggest drawback to the girls' team is their youth. "We're extremely young. We're almost where we were two years ago when I took over the program," Lang said. "The difference is I have some girls who have been in the program two years and know what to expect. They can show some leadership if they can stick to it."

Leading the team will be seniors Christy Lauderdale, Lisa Kalka and Christina Gargac. Miss Lauderdale will run the long distance events, the 800, 1,600 and 3,200 meter events. She is the school record holder in the 3,200 meter run.

Miss Kalka is the 400 meter school record holder. "She's a rough, hard-nosed competitor. I think she'll have some success this year," Lang said.

Miss Gargac will long jump, run the hurdles and relays.

Running the sprinting events will be juniors Kim Smith, Connie Borror and Cindy Reber, sophomores Donna Broyles and Carla Niemeyer and freshmen Rachel Coleman, Carla Graham, Michelle Hoffman, Amy Votoupal and Stacey Pyle. Freshman Tracey Cottrell is expected to see action in the hurdle events with sophomores Lisa Herrall running the long distance events.

Throwing the discus for North will be junior Sandra Brown. Lang has high hopes for her. "I think this is a lady who can score some points for us. She's going to surprise a lot of people. She made a world of improvement over last year," Lang said.

Lang is also counting on junior Trina Davis and freshman Paula Rozyccki to help out the team. Both girls were on the basketball team so were unable to start practice with the rest of the squad. The girls open their season with an outdoor dual meet March 23 against O'Fallon at O'Fallon.

Soccer goes indoors

Soccer Action Indoor
By AL BARNES

One of the busiest places, sports wise, in the St. Louis metropolitan area these days... and nights... has to be Granite City's Soccer for Fun place out on Illinois Route 111 just blocks north of the electric stop lights at Pontoon Beach.

Despite a driving rain nearly all day Sunday (yesterday), the playing surface at Soccer for Fun was in continuous action. Just as soon as one game finishes, another pair of teams take over the rink... almost without the miss of a kick.

In fact, the action is daily at Soccer for Fun and that's the name of the game, soccer for fun. Everyone appears to be having fun. From the little tots to the older ginks who play with the intensity of World Cup players.

Take the game I caught early Sunday afternoon from the Polish Mountain Men and the Union Team from Caseyville.

The score was 1-0 in favor of the Mountain Men when I entered the club to talk to Al Meehan and Jack Cooper, the two men responsible for the orderly operations of Soccer for Fun.

After talking briefly to Meehan, I came back to see the play and the Union had zoomed out to a 3-1 lead, the score which held up for the victory.

Like most of the teams playing at the facility, there are a lot of family units involved in the competition... and most of them go way back to grade school days.

The Union is made up of players mostly from Caseyville and there are teams as far away as Mt. Vernon, Ill. The Union squad featured the play of the Rudy brothers, Jim and Dave.

Probably the best soccer is played Tuesday nights starting around seven o'clock.

Carol (Atkinson) Rice, one of the best women players in the area, was asked to name her All-Star women's team now in action at Soccer for Fun.

In goal, she chose Rose Haraorian of the Chicks. She chose only two defenders, primarily because she couldn't remember the name of the third player, a member of Bob Kehoe's aggregation, the other two defensive acres picked by Rice were: Lauri McKee of the Kehoe's and Debbie Fiala of the Chicks. "Lauri will be a key member of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's first varsity team this coming fall," Mrs. Rice stated.

Talking about SIUE women's soccer squad, which will be coached by Lauri Stark, Ms. Stark wouldn't pick between two forwards Mrs. Rice picked on her All-Star team: Jen Boyer and Maureen Moses, a standout player from Granite City South. Coach Rich Segobiano of the Mendoza team couldn't make up his mind between a pair of offensive stars: Stephanie Barusch and Margie Ballard.

Stark said she hoped to sign Ballard for the Cougar women's team.

Letter writing campaign opposes school aid cuts

The Illinois Federation of Teachers, in conjunction with the American Federation of Teachers (AFT), has announced a massive letter-writing drive to generate thousands of letters to Illinois congressional representatives and senators in an all-out drive to stop the Reagan budget cuts.

The 45,000 member organization of teachers and other education workers has set this week as a period when IFT members will gather in local union meetings throughout the state to discuss the ramifications of proposed cuts in federal aid to education and to write letters to their congressmen and senators.

IFT Executive Secretary-Treasurer Ken Drum points to the fact that federal budget cuts mean fewer total dollars to be spent by the federal government on public schools. The Reagan budget has asked for a $9.9 billion budget for federal education programs for fiscal 1982. If enacted, the cuts would result in $2.9 billion less than the $12.8 billion allocated for fiscal 1982 under the continuing resolution in congress.

State Superintendent of Education Donald G. Gill has stated that federal school funding for Illinois would be cut next year by almost 11 percent — down $38 million to $316.9 million. The statewide total for 1983-84 would be down almost another 11 percent from the 1981-82 level, for a federal funding package of $279 million.

During the two budget years, Illinois would be hit by $38.1 million in Title I cuts and $30.9 million in special education cuts. The two-year reduction in Title I funds would eliminate services to 35,000 Illinois school children.

Drum stressed the fact that the campaign to direct letters to congressional representatives is only the first phase of AFT and IFT's all-out drive to stop the Reagan and Thompson efforts to scuttle public education. Attention will soon be directed at state legislators.

Eye banks urgently need donors

March is National Eye Bank Month, a time of year when the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness and eye banks nationwide seek to remind people of the urgent need of donor tissue for corneal transplants.

"In 1981, the Illinois Eye Bank supplied surgeons with a record amount of tissue for 373 corneal transplants," Edgar T. Britton, executive director of the ISPB said.

"Unfortunately, though, we also have a record number of 235 people in Illinois who are waiting for a corneal transplant."

"We do make every effort to alleviate the number of people on the list, but ultimately, any success in reducing this number is due to the generosity of those who are willing to donate their eyes after death. The need for donors is very real. People often wait as long as six months for tissue and some have been waiting over a year," Britton said.

People wishing to donate their eyes need only to carry a signed (and witnessed) universal donor card. Persons interested may contact the Illinois Eye Bank by writing the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, 53 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Ill., 60604 or by calling 1-312-922-8710.

Orthodox Church to host Lenten Retreat

The Rev. Thomas Succarotte, pastor of the Nativity of the Virgin Mary Church, announced that his parish would be hosting a "Lenten retreat" for area Orthodox and non-Orthodox Christians on Saturday, April 3. The theme of the retreat is "Prayer and the Spiritual Life," which will be presented by The Very Rev. Thomas Hopko.

It would explain the relationship between personal and the corporate (liturgical) prayer as worship of the church and how each is related to and within the "person's" spiritual life.

Save Your Vision Week

Plan Today To See Tomorrow" was the theme for the 1982 observance of Save Your Vision Week, the Southwestern Illinois Optometric Society announced.

The event is proclaimed annually by the President of the United States to remind Americans of the role good vision plays in their lives and of the importance of preserving their vision with proper preventive health care.

This year's theme emphasized preventive vision care. It reminds people that they must take care of their vision now so that they will be able to see for a lifetime. Preventive vision care involves not only regular vision examinations but also practicing good vision care habits.

Such habits include taking eye breaks while concentrating on close work, watching television or driving long distances, wearing the right safety eye wear when engaged in eye hazardous activities on the job, at home or in sports, and using good lighting to make seeing easier on the eyes.

Newborn babies can see only light and dark and must learn to see, the Southwestern Illinois Optometric Society announces.

From birth to four months, keep a dim light on in the nursery; change the baby's position in the crib frequently; hang a mobile outside the crib but move it overhead after eight weeks; alternate left and right arms when feeding; play peek-a-boo; provide rattles.

Try as they may, people over 40 cannot escape the need for glasses, says the Southwestern Illinois Optometric Society.

With presbyopia, the eyes gradually lose their ability to focus. The process actually begins in late childhood, becomes noticeable in the forties and usually stabilizes after 65, when most of the eyes' focusing ability has been lost.

The Southwestern Illinois Optometric Society offers this list of common signs of presbyopia. Headaches, fatigue or difficulty in concentrating while doing close work. Blurred or uncomfortable vision at normal reading distances. A tendency to hold reading material further from the eyes.

Good vision can be restored with prescription reading glasses, bifocals, trifocals or contact lenses. They won't stop presbyopia, however, so periodic lens changes are needed to keep pace with its progression.

People over 40 should have annual vision examination not only to keep their vision functioning at top efficiency but also to check eye health. Older eyes cannot wear out from too much use, says the Southwestern Illinois Optometric Society.

Myth: Eye disease is prevalent among older adults. In reality, only 3.3 percent of older adults have glaucoma, 8.8 percent have cataracts, 3.1 percent have diabetic retinopathy. Eye disease, however, strikes older adults more often than younger people and usually has no early noticeable symptoms. So older adults should have vision and eye health examinations annually.

NEW HEAD OF STATE REHABILITATION UNIT
Robert W. Granzier has been named director of the Illinois Department of Rehabilitation Services, and Susan Suter as executive associate director of the department.

"Both have devoted their professional and personal lives to helping others," Gov. James R. Thompson said at an annual conference on disabled persons, held in Chicago. Granzier, 52, was named acting director of DORS on June 1, 1981 when former Director James F. Jeffers resigned.

Thorngate marks 25th anniversary

The 25th anniversary of Thorngate Garden Club was celebrated at a luncheon meeting, last week, at Charlie's Restaurant, and three charter members were accorded special honors.

The club was organized by the late Mrs. Mary Markham and the late Mrs. Ida B. Hanfelder on March 2, 1957, with the object of the club to make their homes more beautiful with flowers and living plants as well as landscaping their yards with shrubs and trees.

Also, the original members agreed to participate in civic projects to assist people in less fortunate situations. Through the years the club has entertained residents at Alton State Hospital, The Troy Professional Care Home with picnics and hosting parties at the Madison County Nursing Home, The Shelter Care Home, and Colonial Haven Nursing Home.

Other active members attending were Mesdames Wanda Kincaid, Beula Miller, Helen Polley, Pearl Young, Jane White, Misses Jean Belhal and June Markham. Also former members, Geneva Woodard, Millie Moss, Jackie Heckel, Pauline Price, Betty Scrump, Wanda Herman, Alma Irwin, Evelyn Ferro, Carolyn Moser, Tonyan, and guests Mrs. Kay Bienecki and Mrs. Blanche Revelle.

Each of the charter members, Mrs. Elizabeth Lavelle, Mrs. Lillian Delps and Mrs. Clara Schilling, were presented with corsages and porcelain hand-painted jewelry boxes.

Mrs. Patricia Polley served as chairman of the planning committee and was assisted by Mrs. June Lux and Mrs. Betty King.

President Mrs. Enid Bolin welcomed members and guests followed by Mrs. Betty King giving the past activities of the club and the highlights of the work completed by Mrs. Schilling. Mrs. Polley gave a resume of accomplishments of Mrs. Delps, June Markham and Mrs. Markham, as club members.

The tables were decorated with a silver bowl holding fresh pink and white flowers flanked by twin silver candelabra with burning pink tapers. Silver roses in small silver vases graced the end of the table.

White and silver place cards were set at each appointment with silver basket nut cups filled with mints. Rose enameled pens served as favors.

A memory table was set up with yearbooks and pictures exhibited, to be viewed by the group.

Retired employees enroll members

The National Association for Retired Federal Employees, Granite City Chapter 1067, met at noon, last week, at Charlie's Restaurant for their regular luncheon meeting.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Tharah Erney, chaplain, with 72 attending and reciting its pledge to the flag in union preceding the business segment.

New members present and enrolled were Ruth Stoyanoff, Adele Zahm, Mary Korcosog, and John and Ada Matras.

McMillan, service officer, reported she has forms available for income tax purposes.

Harry McClintock gave the legislative report speaking about the consumer price index and Federal Health benefits program. He urged all retirees to correspond with their congressional leaders. Maynard Vail submitted a review of the Sunshine Committee.

It was voted upon by the membership to bring a staple item to the April meeting and to purchase perishable items for a needy family at Easter.

President Larry Hengehold extended birthday wishes to eight members and one anniversary couple. He reported that the Illinois State Convention will be held in Joliet on May 3-5. Alvin Bolley, vice-president of the state chapter, will represent the Granite City Chapter.

The special afternoon prize was awarded to Edna Hengehold. Games were played after going to Edith Schwab, Pauline Soboleski, Flora Mae Lensing, Wilma Eddington, Mary McLean, Howard Vallow, Merle Harmon and Arvola Close.

The next regular meeting will be held at 11:30 a.m. at Charlie's Restaurant on April 12, it was noted.

FOUR MAN-DOG K-9 CORPS. The Madison County Sheriff's Department has increased the K-9 Corps to four teams. From left the left are: Deputy Jack Rogers with Thor, Deputy Russell Gentry with Damien, Deputy Mark Sprinkle with Joey J and Deputy Donald Sonnenberg with Chopper. Madison County Sheriff Emil J. Toffant announced that the cost for implementing the expanded K-9 program has been held to a minimum. The dogs were donated, the kennels were made by the deputies utilizing old kennels from the Nike site and the schooling was furnished free by the St. Louis Police Department, leaving basically dog food and medical treatment for the dogs. Joey J has been trained in narcotics detection. Plans call for sending the other dogs in the near future for narcotics and bomb detection training. The dogs are available upon request by all law enforcement agencies in the Madison County area according to Sheriff Toffant.

Amvets Auxiliary plans future events

Several activities during March and April were reviewed by Madison Amvets Auxiliary 204 members at a meeting last week at the Post Home, 1242 Iowa St., Madison. Nineteen members attended.

A group from the local post is planning to participate in the Amvets and Auxiliary annual bowling tournament, scheduled March 20 and March 21, in Mount Vernon. The auxiliary has a total of five teams entered in the event, it was announced.

Several members made arrangements to attend a testimonial dinner in honor of Amvets National Commander Don Russell of Mount Vernon, who will be honored April 24 in his home community.

Compilation of a scrapbook will be started at an officers' meeting, set March 28, and members planned to judge a poster and essay contest, sponsored by Post 204, at the April 6 meeting.

For the second year, the unit authorized the sponsorship of a child at the John Tracy Clinic and it was noted the auxiliary now has 43 members.

Chaplain Dorothy Mercer offered the Amvets Prayer and closing meditation.

Check for car fails to clear

John Novotny of Mathews Chevrolet, 1511 Niedringhaus Ave., told police last week that a man had purchased a vehicle, reportedly for an auto sales firm in Missouri on Jan. 28, paying with a $4,900 check which failed to clear the bank.

The agency employee said the man was contacted and wrote a second check for the same amount that also was returned.

According to police reports, the man and vehicle are now believed to be in Florida.

Toxic plant waste program judged best

The Regional Commerce and Growth Association has won the nation's highest award for efforts to reduce toxic industrial waste.

The 1982 National Environmental Industry Award for excellence in toxic emission control was presented to the RCGA today in Washington in recognition of the organization's support of the Midwest Industrial Waste Exchange.

National environmental industry awards, of which seven were presented in the ceremony, are sponsored by the White House Council on Environmental Quality and the Environmental Industry Council. The EIC is a trade association of companies that develop and install pollution control systems and equipment.

The local award was for setting up the nation's first information clearinghouse for bringing together companies with industrial waste to dispose of and companies that would put the waste to use.

Established in 1975 as the St. Louis Industrial Waste Exchange and now known as the Midwest Industrial Waste Exchange, the exchange also has the participation of the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Kansas City and financial support from agencies in Minnesota and Nebraska.

The RCGA supplies most of the exchange's annual operating budget of about $80,000.

The exchange publishes a quarterly catalog with listings of waste products available and sought. It is mailed to about 4,000 subscribers.

The listings are anonymous, and the exchange puts potential users of wastes in touch with generators.

As of last September, at least 21 transfer agreements had been made and 70 others were being negotiated. By recycling industrial wastes, companies reduce the amount of wastes that must be disposed of by treatment, burning or burial.

The award winners were picked by a panel of independent judges. The EIC notified the RCGA that its entry was "clearly outstanding in stiff competition." Clyde H. Wiseman Jr., director of the Waste Exchange and former Alton mayor, accepted the award for the RCGA.

Substance fills acne pits

To smooth out acne scars without damaging the skin, scientists are successfully using a substance made from cowhides. It's collagen, the skin's own fibrous structural material.

After it's injected under skin craters, the body converts the gel-like implant into a latticework of living fibers that fill up the pits.

Annexation to sanitary unit sought

About 25 farmers seeking to annex a total of 10,000 acres to the Metro-East Sanitary District conferred with district officials last week at the property of Gordon Gass.

The plan would result in tax payments to the district in exchange for handling of stormwater drainage. Further discussions and legal steps are planned.

The territory being discussed includes substantial land areas adjacent to Illinois Route 162 between the Quad-City area and Route 157.

The district cannot drain land not within its boundaries, but has eased snow-melt flooding in rural areas by deepening and widening its drainage ditches, officials said.

Discussion on marital rape

The Rape and Sexual Abuse Care Center at Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, and Metro-East National Organization for Women is sponsoring a discussion Thursday of "marital rape" presented by "Laura X."

Laura X is the director of the National Clearinghouse on Marital Rape in Berkeley, Calif. She organized the successful 1979 legislative campaign in California to outlaw marital rape. Her major concern is in raising the consciousness of women and men across the country concerning the fact that it is still legal for a man to rape his wife in 40 of the 50 states.

Laura X has spoken to attorneys, criminal justice professionals, academics, advocates for battered women, rape victims and feminist organizations around the country in her efforts to have legislation passed which would make marital rape a crime. Her presentation will include the attitudes surrounding the issue of marital rape, cases prosecuted in California since marital rape has been illegal, and her advocacy on behalf of marital rape victims.

Chromalloy had a strong year in '81

The continuing operations of Chromalloy American Corp. had another strong year in 1981 despite recession, high interest rates and a substantial loss in one of Chromalloy's five continuing industry segments. It was announced last week. A subsidiary, Procoat Metals, operates a plant in Granite City.

Frank P. Nykiel, president and chief executive officer, said net sales and operating revenues of Chromalloy's continuing operations were $1.07 billion in 1981, an increase of 9.1 percent over $982.9 million in 1980.

Earnings from continuing operations were $43.7 million, or $2.67 per primary share, in 1981 compared with $40.5 million or $2.55 per primary share in 1980, after adjustments for the effects of accounting changes. On a fully diluted basis, earnings per share from continuing operations were $2.41, up from $2.26.

The barge line, oil tanker and transit businesses in Chromalloy's transportation segment had 1981 operating earnings of $53 million, a gain of 18 percent over 1980. The equipment manufacturing and drilling fluids businesses in the petroleum services segment had 1981 operating earnings of $28 million, a gain of 54 percent over 1980 results.

Continuing operations in the gas turbine and industrial products businesses of the metal fabrication segment had 1981 operating earnings of $47 million, up 13 percent over 1980.

The apparel segment—textile mills, women's apparel and retail businesses—had continuing 1981 operating earnings of $13 million, approximately even with 1980.

Nykiel said strong 1981 earnings gains by "core" businesses in the transportation and petroleum services segments overcame the adverse impact of a $3.9 million net loss incurred by the financial services segment in 1981 as a result of a previously announced $15 million after-tax charge to net earnings in the fourth quarter to increase insurance reserves for losses and loss adjustment expenses.

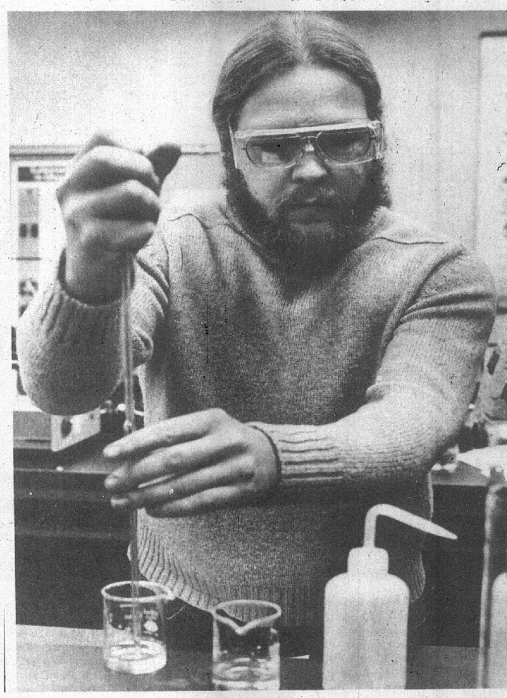

The insurance subsidiary, primarily a writer of general liability, surplus lines, and special risk insurance, is one of the companies in the financial services segment. The insurance industry in general has been experiencing sharp rises in the cost of claims under product and other liability lines of coverage. The management believes the present level of reserves reflects current settlement trends.

Chromalloy's effective tax rate for continuing operations was substantially lower in 1981 than in 1980. The company's record capital expenditures to improve and expand continuing operations during 1981—in excess of $140 million—provided $10.3 million in net investment tax credits, compared with $2.4 million in 1980.

Nykiel said, "The sweeping divestiture and asset redeployment program we began in 1978 has already brought in gross proceeds in excess of 200 million dollars. These funds have been used primarily for key capital improvements in our core businesses and to reduce costly floating-rate debt."

"The sale of the 25 discontinued businesses will provide additional funds for these purposes and largely complete the planned restructuring of Chromalloy American Corp. Chromalloy's 1982 earnings will benefit from our decision to divest these additional 25 businesses. Most of the company's assets are now concentrated in the high-performance core businesses in the transportation, metal fabrication and petroleum services industry segments."

Camping fees will grow at state sites

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

SPRINGFIELD—Come April 1, early flowers won't be the only things pushing upwards in state parks; campground fees are going to be growing, too.

To help offset the traditional deficit in campground operations, the state department of conservation will tack on fee increases ranging from twenty-five cents per person at Class E group sites to one dollar a night for Class A camp sites.

The new policy is expected to generate an additional $300,000 annually, according to Charles Tamminga, department associate director for the bureau of lands and historic sites. However, Tamminga said, the increases will still only offset between 15 and 20 percent of the anticipated deficit.

"In calendar year 1980, we realized $1,135,800 in revenues from our campgrounds," Tamminga said. "But our expenditures for operating the campgrounds that year were $2,840,200. What this means is our expenditures currently exceed our revenues by $1.7 million or about 250 percent."

The increases are the first since 1977, when fees were raised for Class A, B and E sites. Fees for the Class C and D sites have not been raised since 1970, Tamminga said.

Under the new fee schedule, charges for Class A sites will go from $5 to $6 a night, while Class B site charges will rise from $4 to $5. At Class C sites, fees will jump from $2 to $3 daily, and the charge for Class D sites will rise from $1 to $2. Fees at Class E sites will increase from $25 cents with a minimum of $2 for the group, to 50 cents per person with a $5 minimum.

"We feel this rate is fair and reasonable," Tamminga said, "particularly in comparison with the fees charged by neighboring states for state managed campsites. It is still lower than the rates charged by commercial facilities for comparable facilities."

Neighboring states, he said, charge fees ranging from a low of $2 for primitive sites to a high of $30 for sites comparable to Illinois Class A sites.

While the fee hikes will not match the difference between costs and income in the camp site program, Tamminga noted that additional state revenues are generated by campers through patronage of state concessions. The largest campground management loss comes from benefits which have been legislatively mandated for the disabled and senior citizens. These persons are permitted to camp for half-price or no charge on week days. Tamminga said, resulting in approximately 40 percent of the sites' use during the season, and accounting for a loss of more than $400,000 annually.

Last year, in an effort to maintain services without additional cost, the department tested a program of volunteer campground "hosts" who worked for $1 and a free campsite, providing specified services to campers and freeing site personnel for other chores. That highly successful program, Tamminga said, will be expanded from last year's pilot program at 13 sites, to some 35 campgrounds in the coming camping season.
